

"Listen very carefully to what we're about to tell you. Pick up your chequebook (or your company's chequebook), head to your nearest Peugeot dealer and hand over a deposit for the new 406 Coupé." (4.4.97)

Our sentiments, naturally. But not our words. They belong to Auto Express, reporting their exclusive first test drive.

And exclusive is certainly a word which easily attaches itself to the soon to be launched 406 Coupé.

Irresistible body styling by Pininfarina. A lavishly appointed, true four seater. There is no doubt that this is a very special car indeed. Of particular interest to you, however, is the following: the 406 Coupé will be priced from just £19,480.

Brace yourself, then, for a sudden surge in popularity over the coming weeks and months.
